

This sample shows the basic idea how to continuously capture images using the PyuEye interface in combination with OpenCV.

In addition to initializing the camera, information about the camera itself is queried, various image parameters are set, and an image is captured.

 uEye_SimpleLive_PyuEye_OpenCV.zip - Registration required \(181.0 KiB\)

© 2021 IDS Imaging Development Systems GmbH